

PROF. M. MADHAVI,
M.Sc., B.Ed, SLET, Ph.D., FAEB
Professor & Head

Prof. M. Madhavi is currently Professor & Head, earlier Chairperson- Board of Studies,

Dept. of Zoology, at University College of Science, Osmania University, Hyderabad Telangana State, India. She has 21 years of teaching and 19 years of research experience and has been a Professor since 2020. Dr. Madhavi received merit scholarship from Osmania University during her Post Graduation and earned her Doctorate in Zoology from Osmania University. She has authored around 70 International and National publications (Peer Reviewed Journals), 18 books and possesses three Indian Patents and also has to her credit three Major/Minor research projects from DST, UGC. Her publications reflect her research interests in Entomology (Stored Product pest), Medical Entomology (Mosquitoes and Mosquitoes borne disease using plant product) Sericulture, Biodiversity (Butterfly and spiders Biodiversity), Environmental Sciences, Bioinformatics, Sports Physiology and Toxicology Studies. Dr. Madhavi has successfully organized 23 Symposia/Workshops, including an Online International Webinar (07 Days) Reforms in examination branch in the, National Practical Workshop for teachers and students (07 Days), 15th International Conference of Medical Arthropodology in December, 2022. She is serving as a life member in Indian Science Congress, Entomological Society of India, and three Days International Conference on “Recent Advances in Zoology – Innovations, Challenges, and Opportunities” held on 20th, 21st, 22nd December, 2023 at department of zoology, UCS, OU. Butterfly Conservation Society, Hyderabad, Society of Medical Arthropodology (SOMA) Red cross society Hyderabad and also is the recipient of Best Paper Award at National Conference in India and Best Oral Presentation award at Singapore. She is a Fellow of Academy of Environmental Biology-FAEB India and Associate Fellow of Andhra Pradesh Academy of Sciences (AFAPAS) and Associate Fellow of Telangana Academy of Sciences (AFTAS). Prof. Madhavi received SHE INSPIRES Award 2020, Sports Physiologist Award 2020. She delivered number of guest lectures at some of the prestigious Institutes/Academic staff colleges in Telangana and Andhra Pradesh and gave Lead Lectures /Invited Talks/oral presentations at various National and International Conferences across India and abroad. Prof. Dr. M. Madhavi received Vice-Chancellor’s Research Excellence Award from OU-VC in Jan., 2022. Prof. M. Madhavi was presented with memento by her Excellency Dr. Tamilsai Soundararajan Hon’ble Governor Telangana State on “Women Scientist Award” on the occasion of Women Scientists conclave being organized at IICT, Hyderabad. She regularly updates herself by attending various workshops and short term courses conducted by premier Institutes of excellence across India. She has guided and awarded Ph.D. for 5 students and guiding research scholars has mentored 73 PG students research projects and instill in them a kind of confidence to pursue active and live Internships and to continue their efforts to pursue their doctoral studies. She is a member in various scientific and academic body of different colleges, and constituent colleges of Osmania University and Other State Universities. She is Chairperson, Board of Studies in Palamuru University in Mahabubnagar and also Chairperson, Board of Studies in Telangana University, Member BoS in Kakatiya University, Warangal, Member of Gulbarga University, Karnataka, Member of Rayalaseema University, Kurnool, AP, Member Osmania Graduates Association. Prof. Madhavi has been very active in both academics and administration, wherein she has served as First Lady Controller of Examinations & Head, Dept., of Zoology at Nizam College, a constituent college of Osmania University and is presently holding the position of Youth Welfare Officer at Osmania University and Head Department of Zoology, OU.